The DoHeCa pilot programme has started!

Today, a milestone in the DoHeCa project is reached: the pilot programme has started! Twelve pilot students have started the first module: Personal Development. This module is an overarching module that will continue throughout the course. During the first two weeks of the programme, it will provide an introduction to the entire Donor Health Care Programme. It shows how to use the digital learning environment and students will have to contribute to several online forum discussions.

The primary objective for students is to demonstrate that they can function at a high professional and academic level, focusing on their academic skills, skills for lifelong leadership, leadership development and communication skills.

On September 19th, the module Basic Principles of Donor Health Care will start.
